Cindy:

I think a link on that womens website would be best.
Instead of the entire story on their page

Hello Cindy,

Thank you very much for getting back to me! Most of the articles I want to include in my archive are quite old (mostly 1920-1974 or so) and I believe the Kane Republican's website only archives back to 2010 (I found the old articles by going over old microfilms). In the case of those old articles, would I be allowed to provide the full text on my website, or would your publisher prefer that I include only a citation for the article?

For articles 2010 and onwards, I will definitely link to the Kane Republican's website instead of including the article on my website.

Thank you again and have a nice day!
